Terms of the Agreement

1. The item(s) may be photographed, copied, or published only with the permission of the Library. The borrower agrees that the item(s) outlined above will be used only for the purpose stated on this form and only for one-time, non-exclusive use with all rights reserved. If items are needed for multiple use, reapplication with this form would need to be submitted.
2. All publications of photographs or items in this agreement will bear the credit line, "Courtesy of The Grundy Archive", acknowledging that the objects are property of the Grundy Foundation and/or its affiliated institutions (Grundy Museum and Grundy Library). This credit line should be visible and directly below the item(s) used. If appropriate to the intended publication, please cite the collection(s) the item(s) belong to and the Grundy Archive as such: "[Item], [Collection], Grundy Archive."
3. The image(s) or copies may not be lent to a third party without the advance approval of the Library.
4. These photographs or copies may not be used for any commercial or for profit purpose without prior written permission from the Library.
5. Any images or scans listed in this agreement may not be altered in any way, such as through cropping or photo editing, unless approved by the Archivist or Library Director.
6. Due to the nature of some legacy collections, we do not know the exact origin of copyright and/or intellectual property rights for some of our materials, and their publication is free and clear of infringement claims sought by copyright owners. To make our information more accurate, we are eager to hear from any rights owners who might know of certain collection items' origins.
